DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 13 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Specifically, it is not clear why the user would be allowed a smaller function set in a second mode in which the user was successfully authenticated. The claim will be interpreted in line with independent claims 1, 7, and 15 wherein the user is allowed fewer functions when authentication is unsuccessful.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 13 and 15 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of copending Application No. 10/550,925. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they claim essentially the same subject matter.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1, 7, 9, 13, and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kohinata, US Patent application Publication Number 2003/0129964 (hereinafter Kohinata).

Regarding claims 1, 7, 13 and 15, Kohinata discloses an apparatus comprising: a plurality of components including a component to store a reference photograph, wherein the reference photograph is a photograph of an article or a photograph of an object; a camera; and operating logic to activate the camera on power-on or reset to take a photograph, compare the photograph to the stored reference photograph to authenticate a user, and to operate the components depending on whether the user is successfully authenticated based at least in part on said comparison of the photograph to the reference photograph, wherein the operating logic is configured to allow a first set of functions to be made available after successful authentication of the user and wherein the operating logic is further configured to allow a second set of functions to be made available after unsuccessful authentication of the user, the second set of functions including fewer functions than the first set of functions [paragraphs 0043-0046, 0049-0051, 0055, 0057-0058, 0063-0064, 0073-0074].

Regarding claim 9, Kohinata discloses saving the reference photograph [paragraph 0051].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 4, 5, 10, and 11, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kohinata in view of De Jong.

Regarding claims 4 and 10, Kohinata does not specifically disclose the apparatus further comprises a reader to facilitate provision of the reference photograph from a source external to the apparatus, for use to authenticate the user. However, De Jong teaches this limitation [fig. 1; col. 5: lines 21-25, 37-44; col. 6: lines 43-52].

At the time of the invention, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Kohinata to include De Jong. The motivation for this modification would have been to read the reference authentication information from a separate device to prevent fraudulent use of the apparatus.

Regarding claims 5 and 11, De Jong discloses the reader is an electronic reader, an optical reader and a magnetic reader card [fig. 1; col. 5: lines 21-25, 37-44; col. 6: lines 43-52].

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments filed 3/16/09 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Kohinata does not teach that the reference photograph is a photograph of an article or an object. However, the Examiner respectfully disagrees as a finger is broadly interpreted as an object.
